Douglassville, Tex.
Oct. 10th, 1924.

Mr. J. L. Collins
Barnesville Ga:

Dear Co. Jean:

Yours of recent date rec'd. I note how adroitly you told me not to vote for the Republican nominee for Governor. Never fear - no danger. but we have to acknowledge Texas politics Kinder twisted up -

Campaigning so early is not to get another in return, so early - but to tell you, it is all right to come when I am not expecting - This is better than to announce the time of your arrival

There might be some delay
- I'll not write what Charlotte Bronte calls "Suspense" but I agree with her - Then if you come unexpectedly, I can meet you at my door "just as I am without one plea" - You will find me a Solitaire, and my home a unique setting for the same -
I do not know my great
Chicago Address
Dear Mother (one of my pets) and I correspond, so I sent her your letter - which was a most favorable introduction of yourself - This bride of Aug 1924 is Mrs. Carol Rice Gould - 2

do not remember her husband's initials - I have not seen Carol since she was quite a child - But am sure she is a lovely woman from the position she has filled - The mother-heart has predominated in me. All I ask in the next life is another chance under more favorable circumstances that this life of mine has not been blessed with opportunities at the price of sacrifices on the part of others -

But if we knew what was ahead of us, we would not - or might not have the heart to carry launch out. And no one would change places with another -

With love to all
Sincerely and Always the same -
Cor Veen
